J. W. WILSON, Baily Union & American R. C. M'Nairy & Co. A Sample of the "Sympatry."-A better illustra. tion of "free soil" sympathy has not been lately seen than that described in the following paragraph about a misguided lady from North Carolina : An old lady, Mrs. Frances Kindred, is now an inmate of the Warren county (Ohio) Poor House. She firmerly resided in Anson county, N. C., and was rich in lands and negroes, but has spent all her property in liberating her slaves. In 1852 she went to Hillsborough, Ohio, with her last slave. She has ARE RECEIVING AN since become so reduced in circumstances as to be compelled to take refuge in a poor house. She and her friends now appeal to philanthropists to contribute enough to get her out of the poor house and place her in a more tolerable institution. Mrs. Kinderd dred is now eighty-three years old. At a trial in a Vermont court, several years ago, a French lady had been subported as a witness, and was called upon to give her testimony. She was a Cannon Stove. IMMENSE STOCK stranger in the place, and "the Court" felt itself bound to address her in her native togue. But "the Court's" education in the pulse rous line had been sadly neglected, and how to administer the oath in an intelligible form to the collection. Four sines, a good coal stove, with ventilator and door-be an intelligible form to the silent lady before him was for some moments a puzzing question. What was to be done? The Judge called upon several of the lawyers near him, but they all avowed their igno-PRESIX STOVE. rance of the language then so supposedly necessary. Finally the counsel for the defendant, a clever Yankee, feeling himself equal to the occasion, volunteered to extract "the Court" from its embarrass-Three since-a most excellent coal stove. meut. He accordingly arose and addressed the lady liness in these terms "Your jurez gat wat you here testify shall be ze truse, ze whole truse, and nossing but ze truse, so holp you men Dieu?"
